COMMITTEE ON

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE LAND OFFICE

IN RESPONSE TO A RESOLUTION PASSED

AT THE REGULAR SESSION OF THE

LEGISLATURE OF 1860

AND A RESOLUTION PASSED

AT THE REGULAR SESSION OF THE

LEGISLATURE OF 1860, RELATIVE TO THE

LANDS BELONGING TO THE STATE

AND A RESOLUTION PASSED

The second volume contains everything relating to the volunteer service which has passed through this Department during the year, 1863, added to which are important statistical tables embracing a period of nearly three years, commencing in April, 1861, and ending on the 31st day of December, 1863.

PREFACE.

It has been found that to combine this report in one volume it would be too inconvenient and cumbersome; it has therefore been printed in two. The first contains the report proper, appended to which are all the statistical tables, reports of Brigadier Generals, &c., connected with the discipline, organization and services of the militia of the State. These are given in full, and to a casual observer might be considered unnecessary. But when, considering the period in which we live, and the magnitude of events passing around us, the agitation of society and the disruption of laws and usages under which we have prospered for seventy-five years, military records become important, and are increased in value and in interest as time rolls on. When this rebellion shall cease, and our Union is restored, the following pages will be appreciated, and the citizens of the State feel proud that in times of discord and peril there was an organization within its limits always ready to vindicate the laws, irrespective of political prejudices and regardless of personal sacrifices.

The second volume contains everything relating to the volunteer service which has passed through this Department during the year 1863, added to which are important statistical tables embracing a period of nearly three years, commencing in April, 1861, and ending on the 31st day of December, 1863.

This record speaks for itself. It shows that upwards of two hundred and eighty thousand men have taken the field from this State, and have been mustered into the service of the General Government. The labor imposed upon my predecessor in this office, and the ability which marked the services of the Executive, give to these statistics an imperishable value, well worthy of occupying a place in every library of the land.

To what extent these examples have been followed it is not for me to say, but in fidelity, industry, patriotism and zeal, in an earnest desire to meet the public wants and to vindicate the honor and integrity of our country, the incumbent of this office, and those with whom he has been associated, have not been surpassed. Sixty-nine thousand volunteers have been put in the field during the past year. Fourteen thousand militia were sent to the State of Pennsylvania, organized, well armed, clothed and equipped, in twelve days. These troops abandoned their business and homes at an hour's warning, and boldly confronted the enemy, then marched upon Harrisburgh. It has been satisfactorily ascertained, from the reports of the commanders, that the presence of these troops in the field, distinguished as they were for discipline and promptness of movements, deterred the enemy from a farther advance into the country. They supposed the army of Meade was upon their flank, not in front, and thus caused serious apprehension for detached columns, consequently a rapid withdrawal from the vicinity of Harrisburgh, thus frustrating the determination to destroy the bridge crossing the Susquehanna at that place.

These two volumes may cause every citizen of the State to be proud of her record, and feel a conscientious right to have "Excelsior" upon her banners.

JOHN T. SPRAGUE,

Adjutant General

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 1st, 1864.
